T1. Add a CSS rule and appropriate html to style every other line of the unordered list with a light blue background color. Specify the background color using the rgb method.

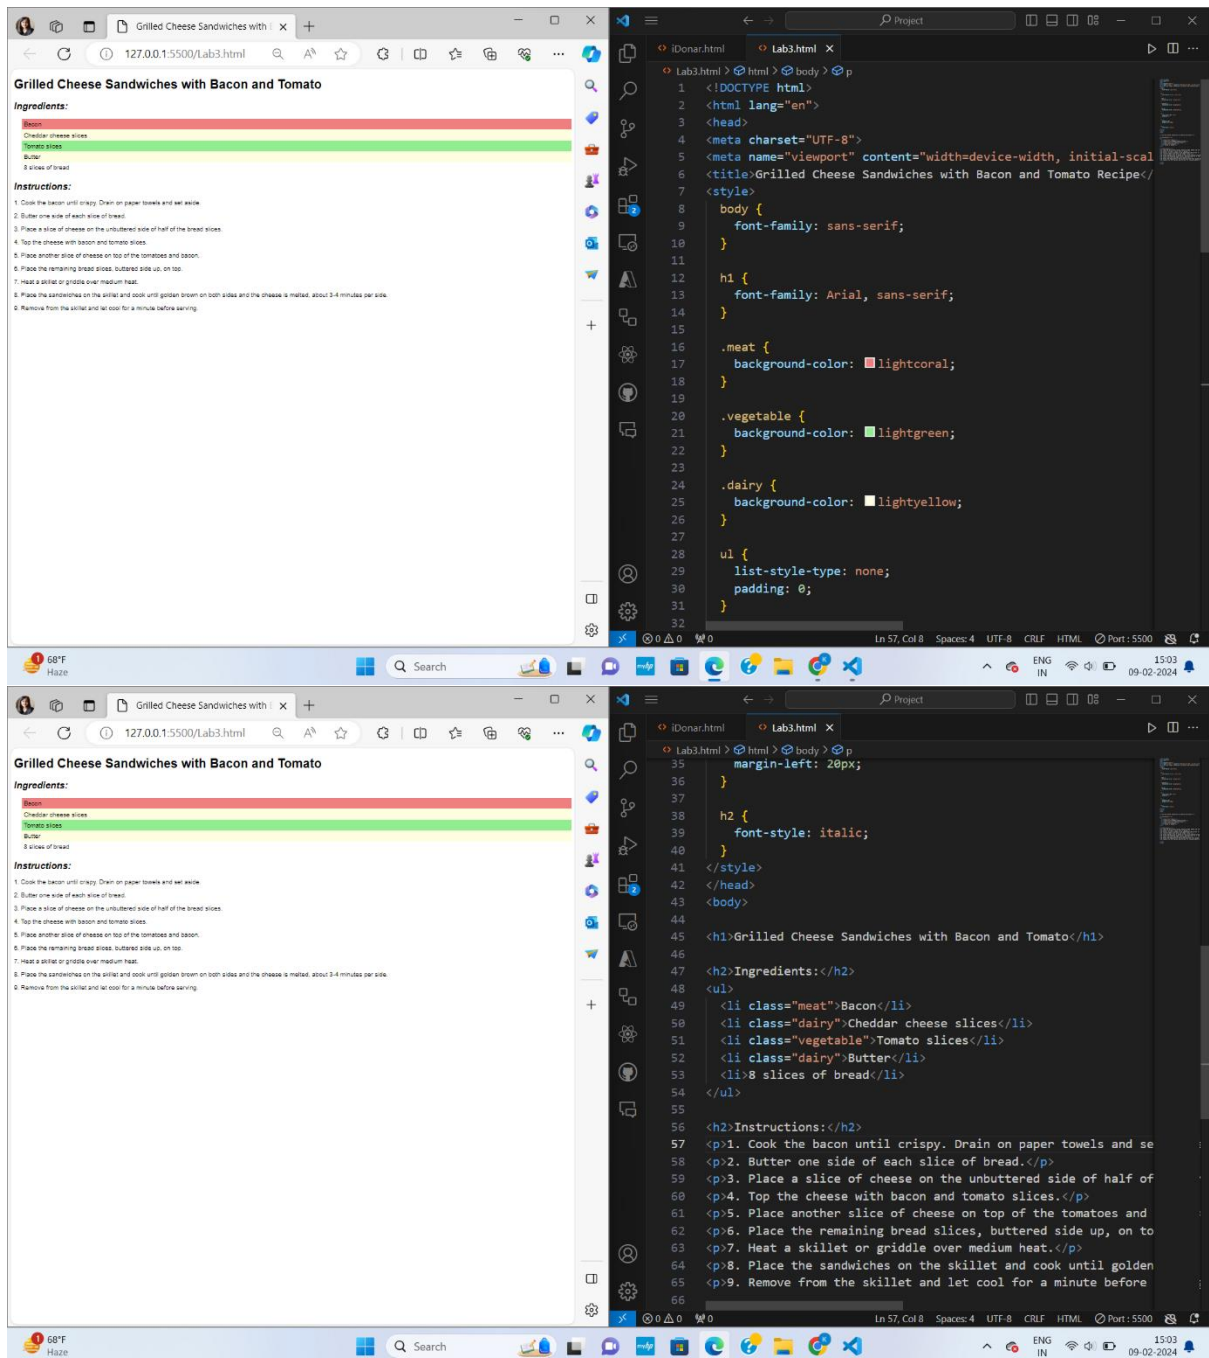

- Eswatini
- Ecuador
- Tanzania
- Spain
- Slovakia
- Iraq

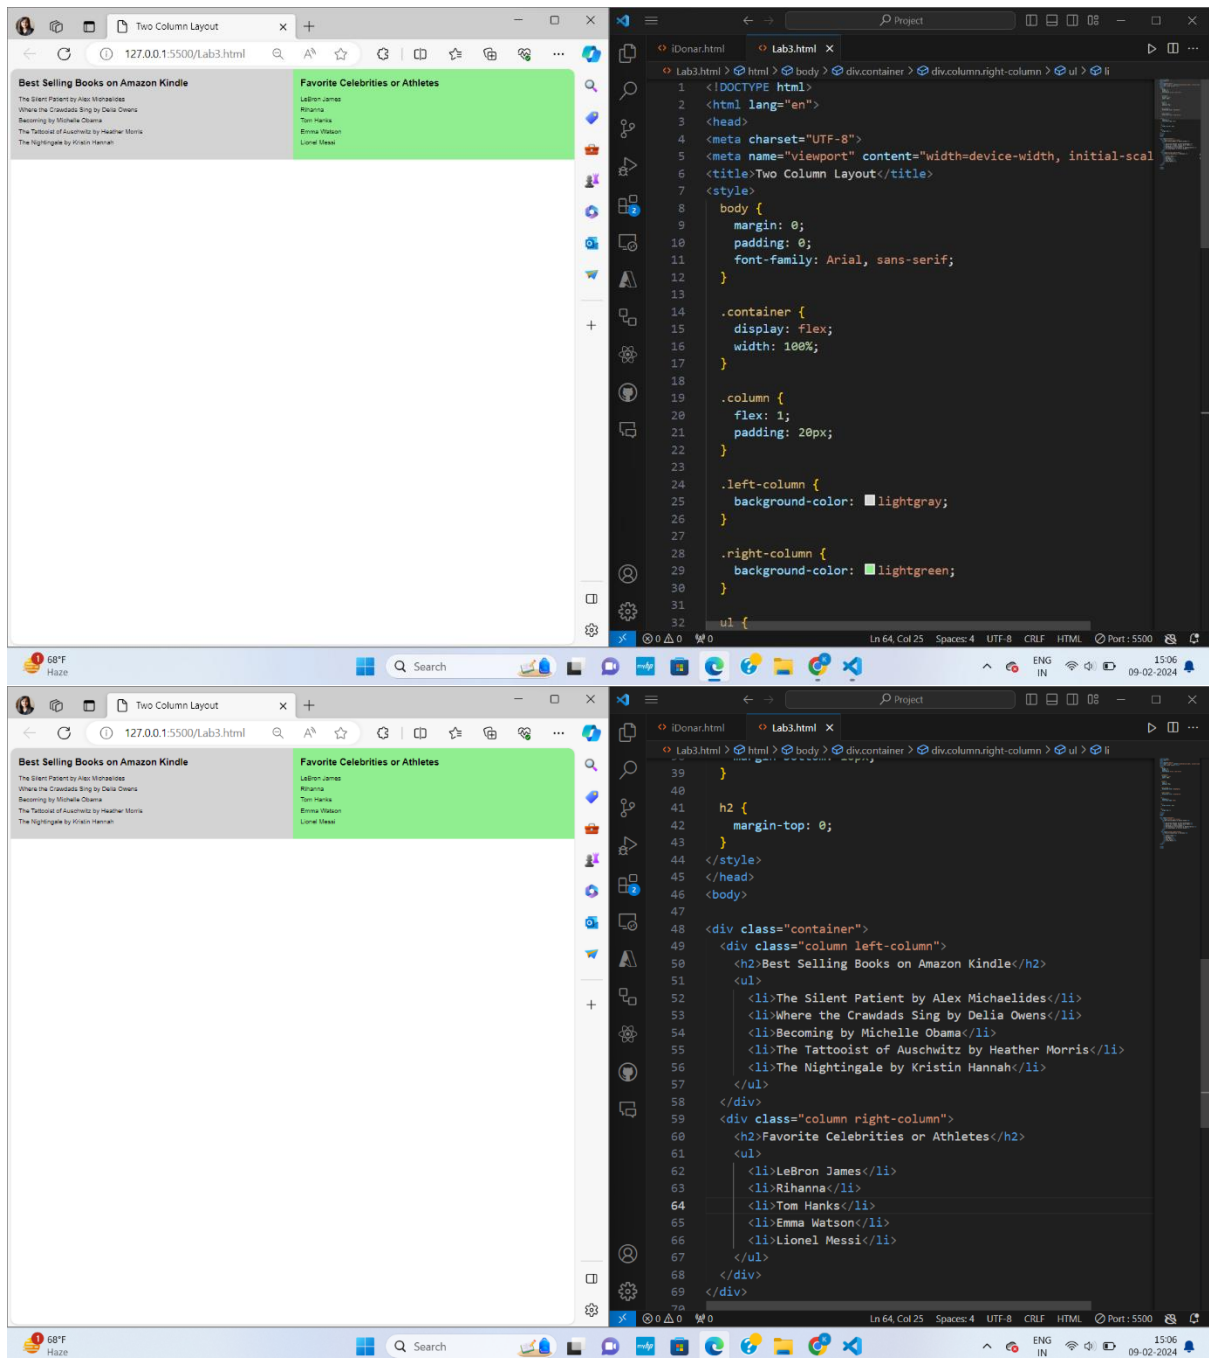

T2. Given the table in the question style the table so that the odd rows have a light gray background. In addition add a header row to the table and style that row so it has white text and a black background color. Change the font so that they are all 14 point sans serif of some kind.

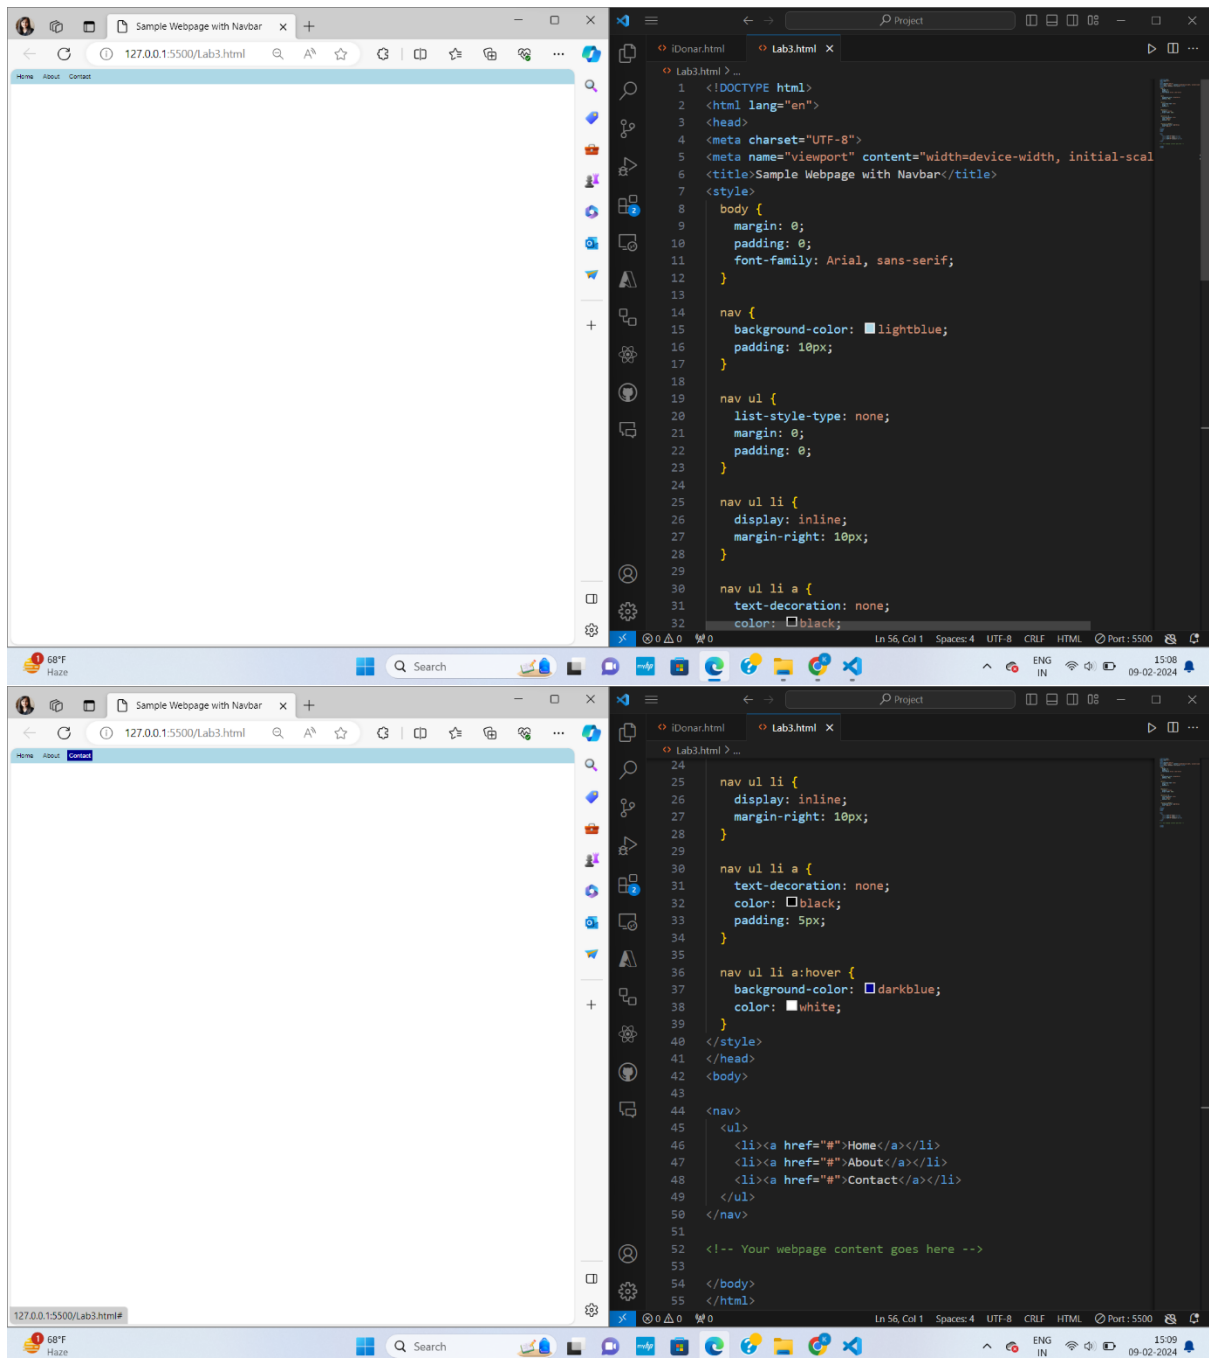

T3. Suppose you are working on a recipe website. Recipes have a title, a list of ingredients, and an instructions section. Make a webpage that shows the recipe for grilled cheese sandwiches with bacon and tomato. The ingredients should be displayed as an unordered list, with no bullets. Meat ingredients should have a light red background color, vegetables should have a light green background, and dairy products should have a light yellow. The title should be in a sans serif font of your choice, and the instructions should have a heading "Instructions" and the font for the instructions should be italic.

T4. Using CSS and HTML Make a webpage that has two columns. Each column should use half of the width of the page. The left half should have a light gray background and the right half should have a light green background. The left half should have a list of the 5 best selling books in Amazon's kindle store, and the right should have a list of your five favorite celebrities or athletes.

T5. Using the nav element, make a navbar for at the top of a sample webpage. Add at least three links to the navbar using an unordered list that is displayed as inline rather than block. Make the navbar have a light blue background color, but change the background of the title to a darker blue when the mouse hovers over it.

T6. Using the image of the playing card, use transformations and animations to make the playing card spin around endlessly.
